

Chairman's Message

Hello again,

With the festive season approaching, I offer a few suggestions for presents:

1. For your friends and relations:

- security products, available from the Ferndown Police Community Office at the Barrington Centre (see elsewhere in this publication for contact details)

2. For all your neighbours

- help them to be safe and to feel safe in their homes by suggesting security improvements they can make

3. For neighbours planning to be away

- offer to keep an eye on their home for them - take in the mail, draw curtains and put the bins out on collection days

4. For vulnerable and lonely neighbours

- give your time – keep an eye on their home, talk to them, visit them

5. For your Wimborne and Colehill Home Watch

- help us to expand membership – by finding community minded people to set up new schemes, or by taking over duties for your own scheme if it no longer has a Contact
- volunteer your time to help with such things as exhibitions, events, Sheduction visits

6. For burglars (NOT to be recommended)

- make it easy for them to steal your property by not taking appropriate precautions – for example not leaving presents or any other valuables unattended in the car or on display near windows in the home, not securing your house and any outbuildings

Finally, your committee members join with me in wishing every one of you a very happy Christmas and a safe and rewarding New Year.

Best wishes,

John Shave.

Let's get neighbourly this Christmas!

Societal changes are having a devastating impact on older people at Christmas, with many set to spend the day alone.

Last Christmas more than 300,000 over 75s were believed to have spent Christmas Day alone, and this year that figure is set to rise as nearly half a million older people are at risk of spending the day alone.

The research, carried out by older people's charity, Royal Voluntary Service, found the most common reason older people are set to be lonely this Christmas was family living far away or even in a different country.

Others are saying it is because they don't speak to their children anymore or because they won't want to put their busy family under any more pressure at Christmas. Sadly, a small number admit they simply haven't been invited to spend the day with anyone.

Nearly half of over 75s, say they think families are fragmented now and under a lot of pressure. Technological advances, although welcomed by charities for those times when face to face contact isn't possible, seem to have replaced an actual visit with 47 per cent saying technology means people make less effort to actually see each other.

With the majority of older people wanting a traditional Christmas spent in company Royal Voluntary Service has partnered with Community Christmas for 2014, with the aim that no older person should have to spend Christmas alone if they don't want to.

The website (communitychristmas.org.uk) is a portal where those who are holding events, activities or offering support to older people on Christmas Day can register them. It provides a one-stop-shop for older people, their families, friends and carers to search for options near them on Christmas Day.

Actress Felicity Kendal, backing the campaign, said: "Christmas Day is a time for celebration, friends and family. It is heartbreaking to think of half a million older people sitting on their own, hidden away, while the nation enjoys themselves. Let's show older people we do care and make sure they know there are invites waiting this Christmas."

Royal Voluntary Service and Community Christmas are calling on anyone who has an event or support available to older people on Christmas Day to register it now at www.communitychristmas.org.uk.

Report from Inspector Wayne Nock

As we come to the end of the year few could have missed the media attention focused on The East Dorset Section and indeed Dorset Police. Along with other public services and emergency services Dorset Police has introduced changes to meet the ongoing financial restraints. I can assure you that these decisions have not been made lightly and that our service delivery to the public has always been the most important factor in any decision making.

Christchurch patrol officers are now based at Ferndown Police Station and while there will be no change for the immediate future, when the time comes for us to vacate the Ferndown Police Site your local Safer Neighbourhood Teams will be based at appropriate and suitable locations within the major towns and population centres of East Dorset and continue to operate as part of the particular community they serve.

Dorset Police are still looking to the future and recruiting new officers, several of the new police recruits were previously Police Community Support Officers who will now continue their career as Police Officers. I can reassure you that within East Dorset plans are already in place to replace them with both PCSO's transferred from other areas and new recruits.

I am pleased to advise you that our service to victims of, and witnesses to crime will be dramatically improved with the adoption of a local service following the signing of a three year contract providing an enhanced service to the county's victims. The new service was commissioned by Mr Martyn Underhill the PCC and the scheme is the first of its type to be established in the country. The phased programme will include the introduction of a 24hr helpline for victims of crime and additional support for victims of anti-social behaviour and business crime. The size of the Victim Support team in Dorset will also double.

An example of that old adage 'crime does not pay' is aptly demonstrated when on 22nd September 2014, Paul Harvey, 43, was sentenced to three years & four months in prison for robbery and possession of an offensive weapon. This related to Harvey committing an armed robbery at the Leigh Park convenience store, Wimborne where he brandished an axe and stole £1200 in cash. He was located and arrested by police less than 10 minutes later, nearby.

Finally I would like to remind you all to be vigilant about home security around this time of year and to be careful with items in open view in your

YOUR SAFER NEIGHBOURHOOD TEAM

Wimborne & Colehill Safer Neighbourhood Team

The team are pleased to report that both Halloween and Guy Fawkes passed with very few reported incidents of anti-social behaviour.

As we look towards the Festive Season it is timely to remind everyone of some common sense measures to help reduce the risk of becoming a victim of crime over Christmas.

Try not to leave a nice pile of beautifully wrapped presents where they can be seen by someone looking through your windows.

After all the excitement of unwrapping your pressies don't leave a pile of cardboard by the bin that tells thieves exactly what lovely goodies you have to steal. Why not take it to the local recycling centre.

The team are trying to increase our subscribers to Dorset Alert. It is completely free and available anywhere in Dorset. The new website provides access to the interactive tools including messaging and has an information reporting facility so you can engage with the local Police and Home Watch. To register go to www.dorsetalert.co.uk and follow the easy online steps or contact the team and we can fill in a form for you!

Please make sure you 'MAP' yourself to our Home Watch scheme.

Details of how to do this can be found in 'Latest Messages' on our website

Do you think there is a problem with speeding in your road and want to do something about it? If you do you could join the Community Speed Watch Volunteer Scheme. They meet once every couple of weeks, or more if practical, and speed check in areas that residents believe speeding to be an issue. Wimborne Community Speed Watch is run very successfully and has seen a reduction in the amount of speeding on the roads where the volunteers and Police have been speed checking. We would like to expand into Colehill but are currently struggling to get the amount of volunteers needed to make it run successfully. If you are interested please contact us on 101 and we will call you back.

We leave you for the Christmas season with a poem:

Ferndown Police Community Office

The Ferndown Police Community Office is located in The Barrington Centre in Penny's Walk. We are operated by Police Volunteers and are open daily (except Sunday) from 10.00 until 12.00. Please come in and see the wide variety of security devices and leaflets that we have.

When the new waste bins were introduced we sold thousands of self adhesive numbers for identifying your bins. Due to the very large demand we eventually ran out of some numbers, we are now pleased to announce that we now have a further supply, so please come in and get yours, very reasonable at 10p each. We also have a small supply of waste collection calendars.

The very popular GuardCam has been discontinued by the manufacturer and replaced by an LED version. This is very similar to the old one but has LED lights, this makes it much more economic to run and the LED should last for an average of 40,000 hours. The price will normally be £135 but we have purchased a large amount which has cut the price to £115. A sample is available to see in the Community Office. We now stock 4GB SD Cards at £6 which will increase the recording capacity of GuardCams. It is worth noting that if your device records something of interest to the Police they will take away your card as evidence. We now stock a Floodlight, this is an LED version

Recent Trading Standards News

Good neighbours stop rogue traders

As part of National Consumer Week 2014 (3-7 November), residents in Dorset were asked to look out for rogue doorstep traders who may be visiting vulnerable neighbours.

With as many as 170,000 incidents of doorstep crime occurring nationally each year, the National Consumer Week 2014 'Good Neighbours Stop Rogue Traders' campaign encourages neighbours, friends, families and carers to look out for signs of uninvited doorstep traders visiting their neighbours. These traders often call uninvited and offer to carry-out repairs which are poor quality, unnecessary and charged at extortionate prices, sometimes even driving their victims to the bank to withdraw money or threatening them.

The council's Cabinet member for community services, Cllr Colin Jamieson, said:

"While Trading Standards Officers strive to track down and prosecute rogue traders, community intervention is the first step in preventing detriment caused by doorstep crime. The 'Good Neighbours Stop Rogue Traders' campaign highlights the impact community-spirit and the goodness of neighbours, friends and relatives can have in keeping Dorset safe."

The Good Neighbours Stop Rogue Traders campaign is a partnership between the Trading Standards Institute (TSI), Citizens Advice and the National Trading Standards Board and this is supported by Dorset's Trading Standards Service.

Dorset residents have found that displaying a Dorset County Council Trading Standards Partnership 'We do not deal with uninvited traders' door card helps deter uninvited traders from calling. Recently updated to a two part door sticker, supplies can be obtained from many libraries, council receptions.

Ivan Hancock, Trading Standards Service Manager for Dorset County Council, said: "Helping local residents feel safe and secure in their own home is a priority for us as it contributes to people remaining independent for longer. We encourage residents to display a door sticker to deter uninvited traders and to encourage their neighbours to do the same."

Breeder's false dog tale leads to prosecution

A dog breeder who misled a Dorset woman about the condition of a puppy has been prosecuted following a Trading Standards investigation.

The Wimborne woman, who purchased the female bullmastiff puppy from Hampshire breeder Mr

McGougan, was worried about its weeping eye. She was told by the trader that it had been standing in a draught, when in fact it had a serious condition that would need surgery once the dog was fully grown. Mr McGougan had been previously told by a vet that this was the case and that he must inform the buyer.

A complaint was made through the Citizens Advice consumer helpline which was investigated by Dorset County Council's Trading Standards Service.

Thomas McGougan, 53, of Andover was found guilty of two offences under The Consumer Protection from Unfair Trading Regulations 2008, at Bournemouth Magistrates' Court, (7 November).

He received an 18-month conditional discharge and ordered to pay £600 compensation to the buyer of the puppy and £200 in prosecution costs, after taking into account his own health problems, and reliance on state benefits.

One key aspect that the court considered was whether the breeder was acting as a trader when he sold the dog and if he was subject to the consumer protection regulations. They decided that he was a trader given that Kennel Club records showed that he had bred 37 puppies over three years, which would have raised around £26,000, that he advertised on several websites and that he was a Kennel Club registered breeder. McGougan argued that he bred dogs merely to subsidise the cost of keeping his own dogs.

Kennel Club Secretary, Caroline Kisko, said:

"The Kennel Club expects breeders to be transparent and honest about the health of their pups and pass on the relevant veterinary paperwork to the new owner. We would always advise going to a Kennel Club Assured Breeder when looking for a healthy and happy puppy, as it is the only scheme in the UK where dog breeders have to follow high standards and are inspected to ensure they are committed to the best possible breeding practices. If there is a prosecution and conviction against any individual then the Kennel Club has the right to follow up with relevant disciplinary action which may include a ban on registration of puppies."

The council's Cabinet Member for Community Services, Cllr Colin Jamieson, said: "Our Trading Standards department offers advice to Dorset-based businesses of any sort, including dog breeders, to help them comply with fair trading legislation. This work helps support local business and protects consumers. If any local breeder is unsure of their legal requirements I would suggest they contact the Trading Standards business advice line on 01305 224702."

Harry Homewatch

Hark the merry till bells ringing. Yes it is that time of year again, when the majority of us like to give to our family and friends. Unfortunately a small minority like to take from us instead. Harry was once told that the best way of getting rid of unwanted rubbish was to wrap it up in Christmas paper and leave it in full view of any passing opportunist thief.

Seriously though do be sensible about where you leave presents, especially in the car when out shopping. It is simple for a thief to see what you have bought and follow you to your car. You then deposit the first load and return to the shops. To stop Mr thief always put the items in the boot out of sight, never on the seat of the vehicle and make sure you have locked the car before returning to the shops. Also look back after you have walked a little way to see if anything suspicious is going on around your vehicle.

The other place we tend to put our presents on view is around the Christmas tree, which is often placed in the window nearest to the road and of course lit up even when we go out. Keep them out of view until Christmas day.

Harry would like to wish all of his readers a Happy Christmas and a crime free New Year.
